

Lighting

Lighting products and lighting control have interested me for a long time, and I've finally gotten around to stocking and designing some products that I brainstormed ages ago. Alongside any products I sell I always like to write up some of my ideas that go well beyond what is normally expected as instructions or specifications. Hopefully you'll find this document useful; I'll add to it as I find time.

-Chris Hansen 7/3/2009

This document is under construction - please check back soon!